

EXECUTIVE TAX PROGRAMME LEVEL III GST Intake 2020/21

Information Package

INTRODUCTION

The Executive Tax Programme Level III (GST) is the foremost training programme in the area of Goods and Services Tax (GST) for the tax professionals in Singapore. The curriculum offers rigorous training in advanced GST concepts and relevant case laws. This programme provides a platform for the exchange of tax knowledge and views between the participants from the public and private sectors.

Participants can expect to learn from the best, as courses are conducted by senior tax professionals from the Big 4 international accounting firms, the industry and tax experts from IRAS.

STRUCTURE

There are two components to this programme, the coursework and the research/case study components. Participants will have to complete 3 modules and 1 research/case study paper over a ten-month period.

Coursework Component

GST 101 Tax Policy, Administration and Compliance

Weightage of the module: 10%

The module is made up of 2 parts, to be covered in two 3-hour sessions. This module is tagged to the module within the Advanced Tax Programme (ATP), ATP101, of the same module title. Advanced GST participants will attend the classes with ATP participants.

Part 1 will cover the Fiscal Policy of Singapore, in particular the basic tenets of tax policy and the rationale for the policy stance. Participants will study in detail the structure of the Singapore budget using actual recent budget materials. Participants will also discuss the unique features of public finance in Singapore.

Part 2 will cover how the tax law and policies are administered in Singapore from the tax administrator's perspective. Participants will study how the tax policies formulated by the Government are actually implemented on the ground through IRAS, starting with the overall philosophy of the need to encourage voluntary compliance.

Participants will be given an appreciation of the trade-offs in tax administration in particular, the trade-off between service and compliance. The various provisions in the tax law to enable Government to enforce compliance and how IRAS goes about using these provisions to raise the level of compliance will be covered.

Assessment*:

10% of the modular assessment will be determined based on active individual classroom participation and 90% of the modular assessment will be determined based on each participant's performance on a written assignment.

GST 102 Legal Framework of Taxation

Weightage of the module: 10%

This module will be covered over one full-day and one three-hour session.

The following topics will be covered:

Appeal processes to the Board of Review and the Courts, use of case law authority of other relevant jurisdictions and case law analysis, interpretation of tax statutes in arguments and submissions before IRAS and the courts. The sessions will involve an in-depth analysis of recent tax cases and the reasoning of the court decisions in those cases. There will also be an opportunity for the class to examine and discuss interpretation of selected statutes.

Assessment*:

The module will comprise lectures, class participation and presentation, and critique. 10% of the modular assessment will be individual active classroom participation, 20% on in-class assignment and presentation and 70% on individual performance on a take-home written assignment.

GST 103 Goods and Services Tax (Law, Interpretation and Applications)

Weightage of the module: 40%

This module will be covered over four full-day and one three-hour session.

The following topics will be covered:

- (i) The direct nexus between Supply and Consideration;
- (ii) GST applications on forfeit deposits and early termination payments
- (iii) The identities of the supplier and the recipient of the supply.
- (iv) The Tests to apply in distinguishing between Single/Composite Supply (one single overall supply with more than one component) and Multiple/Mixed Supply (separate supplies with two or more components) and their GST implications
 - The leading UK case of 'Card Protection Plan Ltd'
 - How to distinguish principal and ancillary supply
- (v) International Services under Section 21(3) of the Singapore GST Act
 - What constitutes Business Establishment or Fixed Establishment
 - The meaning of 'directly in connection with' and 'directly benefit' in Zero-Rating of international services

Assessment*:

10% of the modular assessment will be determined based on active classroom participation, 10% on group discussion and presentation and 80% on individual written examination.

assessment format is based on the last intake and may be subject to change.*

Research/Case Study Component

Participants can either write a research paper reviewing the policy and technical aspects of a specific topic of choice, or an advisory resolution to a scenario-based case study provided in this course. Each Participant will be guided by a mentor in either the research paper writing or case study.

Case Study

The main objective of the case study is to develop analytical and practical application skills of trainees in specialized areas/ issues.

The scope and the facts of the case are pre-developed and will be used as the single common case study for trainees who opt for this. Trainees will have to perform analysis of the case study, draw literature references from the concept and principles covered in the course notes to arrive at the appropriate recommendations. Mentor will provide guidance and advice to the trainees on the approach to the case study and their recommendations.

A sample of the case study from the last intake is found in Annex 1.

Research Paper

The research paper will be on policy and technical review. Mentor of the participant will provide guidance and advice throughout the development of the research paper.

A collated list of research topics attempted by past participants is found in Annex 1.
